

14-15 SEPTEMBER 2017
JOHN LENNON
ART & DESIGN BUILDING
 LIVERPOOL JOHN MOORES UNIVERSITY

DAY ONE

TIME	TOPIC
10:00	Welcome
10:15	Introduction Ruth Eley
10:20	First Person Accounts: Why design matter to people with dementia & their carers
10:40	What we already know about design for dementia Professor Mary Marshall
11:10	Why design matters - the benefits for business Panel: Sarah Waller, Sarah Weir, Chris Lawler
11:40	BREAK
12:00	The response of the arts & cultural sector Involving and improving access for people with dementia and carers Brendan Douglas Roger McKinley Victoria Pratt	Interior Design Designing interiors which work well and look good for people with dementia Gladys Marr Do wet-rooms assist independent living? Bryon Chappell	Housing for an ageing population Identifying barriers, opportunities and innovations, to support people living well at home Dr David Kelly	Developing dementia-aware design professionals The challenge of dementia for architects & educationalists Round table discussion led by Ian Wroot	HAPPI at home? Dementia housing charter - meeting the challenge Wendy Wells Future-proofing housing for an ageing population Jeremy Porteus	Living Lab Co-creating solutions to address difficulties and improve quality of life

13:00	LUNCH
13:45	Why design matters: the role of the Design Council in influencing change Sarah Weir
14:05	PEOPLE MOVING TO PARALLEL SESSIONS
14:10	Staying Put Should we stay or should we go? Our story Phil & Julie Dickinson An APP to help people with dementia retain control of their living space Dave Anderson	Connecting minds through Sandplay Sensory awareness activity, participatory design tool, jungian therapy, fun with sand Bill Halsall Dr Rob MacDonald	Making external spaces inclusive Exploring latest research into relationship-centred design for gardens and outdoor spaces Mark Rendell	Independence & technology Can tracking devices enable people to stay safe at home for longer? Emma Stafford Will Henderson Ian McConville Developing a travel APP Dave Burrows	Living Lab Co-creating solutions to address difficulties and improve quality of life
15:10	PEOPLE MOVING BACK INTO MAIN ROOM
15:20	Why design matters: the impact on physical and mental well-being Beatrice Fraenkel
15:45	PEOPLE MOVING TO PARALLEL SESSIONS
15:50	Strategic responses Thinking creatively - using the Better Care Fund Nina Warrington Dementia dwelling	How can OTs influence design? Working with developers, housing agencies and local authority grant teams	Responding to the housing challenge What has been learned from innovation in extra care housing? Luke Reeves Integrating design for dementia into new housing project commissions	Designing for the mind: A condensed masterclass on making spaces responsive to people with differing physical and cognitive needs and capacities	Living Lab Co-creating solutions to address difficulties and improve quality of life

	grant pilot - adaptations involved and research to be undertaken Sarah Waller	Michele Finney	Damian Utton	Alastair Somerville *Extended sessions 1.5 hours
16:50	END OF DAY ONE
18:00	WINE RECEPTION

DAY TWO

TIME	TOPIC
9:30	Welcome to day two Jack Coutts
9:40	Lived experience: What we're doing in Liverpool to influence design SURF
9:55	PEOPLE MOVING TO PARALLEL SESSIONS
10:00	Making adjustments Helping people live at home - the role that occupational therapists have to play Jill Pendleton Emma Stafford	Influencing contractors and trades associations Can education, training and a code of conduct improve customer experience? Steve Callaghan Supporting	Removing barriers Wayfinding - improving accessibility through needs-specific signage Karen Clayton Integrating acute & social care around a hub - a case study Derek Shepherd	Living Lab Co-creating solutions to address difficulties and improve quality of life

		apprenticeships to understand dementia Steve Craig
11:00	BREAK
11:15	Co-producing technology solutions How working with people with dementia & carers informed the design of a ground-breaking memory APP Chris Morland	Building standards and dementia The planned demonstration 'dementia friendly' home Efthimia Pantzartzis Can building regulations promote dementia-inclusive construction standards? Joe Forster	Influencing planners and developers Creating better places for people with dementia Sarah Lewis Dementia-inclusive supplementary planning documents Maria Dunn Marta Dziudzi	Beyond the front door The meaning of home for people with dementia and carers Ruth Eley Moving to extra care housing - our story Eileen & Dave Gilbert Improving the home environment for our residents with dementia Isobel Godwin	Living Lab Co-creating solutions to address difficulties and improve quality of life
12:15	Final sum up including living lab outcome and closing remarks				